Presenting ensembles which were cheerful and edgy was designer Ankita Chaudhry from her label Saaj by Ankita at a recent evening.

The collection titled Stay Wild, Moon Child, which made an eclectic use of colours, structures, and embroidered motifs, was showcased at the HT City Club Fashion Nights 2019 at Playboy Club, Samrat Hotel.

Designer Ankita Chaudhry says, "All of us have a hidden quirky side, and these striking ensembles are specially designed to cater to that fun side of yours. The collection is dedicated to women who want to go the bold and fearless way."

What makes this range unique is the use of bold graphics of black-and-white chevrons and other geometric patterns that have been incorporated in pieces, alongside pop colours such as orange, aqua, and green. The collection featured tailored pant suits, jackets, culottes, skirts, and more, and has been created keeping the price-consciousness of the market in mind.
